ACCIDENTS AND VICTIMS

The Mission Hospital has been called upon for more service in connection with fatalities or near fatalities resulting from accidents. Last Thursday morning S. A. Appold, a licensed aviator who had been making exhibitions at Griffith Park, died from the shock of injuries received in a fall the day before. He was severely injured internally and never recovered consciousness after being brought to the hospital. He was a German-Amercan and the remains were shipped to his home in Baltimore.

Sunday surgeons and nurses were called upon to minister to Harry Sugarman, of Angeleno street, Los Angeles, who accidentally shot himself while hunting with a party in the San Fernando Valley near Saugus. He had stood the gun against his chest and leaned over to strike a match when it accidentaaly dicharged, the ball entering the chest just above the heart. A slight deflection would have meant instant death. In response to summons he was conveyed to Tropico in the hospital ambulance. The bullet has been located and the young man is responding splendidly to the care and atention he is receiveing.

Sam Merriken, victim of the motorcycle accident was discharged from the hospital Monday as he has reached the point where home treatment will complete his recovery, though he will need care for months to come. He is able to move about in a wheeled chair. His restoration is considered quite remakable in view of the fact that he was kept alive only by the use of oxygen treament for several days.

NEW ARRIVAL

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Griffin are the happy parents of a fine boy born Monday afternoon. Mother and child are doing well.

In anticipation of the event Mrs. Crawford of 916 North Central avenue, assisted by Mrs. James Gregory of Tenth street, Tropico, gave a shower for Mrs. Griffin. It was a most enjoyable function for all concerned and the guest of honor was the recipient of many beautiful gifts. The reception rooms were beautifully decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums and light refreshments were served. Guests were: Mesdames Sanford, Spafford, Ripley, C. R. Carmack, P. O. Lucas, Louise Purnell, Ada Atkinson, U. Emick, John Hobbs, H. Goodrich, A. Haeske, W. A. Hough, S. Frank Beyea, A. Haskell and Flora Pixley.

DEATH OF LITTLE STRANGER

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Beck suffered a heart breaking bereavement in the death last Saturday of the little stranger whom the stork brought to their home only twelve days before, little Lillian Aileen, a beautiful babe on whom all their hopes centered. Mr.s Beck came to Tropico with her husband's mother last summer to get away from the torrid heat at Trona, Mr. Beck being with them as often as possible, and the two women who have lived at 512 Brand Boulevard, made many friends who rejoiced with them when the baby came. Mr. and Mrs. Beck are English and have been in this country about two years. Lillian Aileen was their first child, Imperfect heart action was the cause of death. The Becks will return to Trona this week.

NEWS OF DR. RUSSELL

"How far a little candle casts its beams!" Mrs. Eustace B. Moore of Blanche avenue, sent a copy of the Sentinel containing the announcement of Dr. Jessie Russell's departure for New Mevico to conduct a Republican campaign to her friend Mrs. Critchett of El Paso, Texas, who is prominent in club life there. It led to her entertainment of Dr. Russell at her home and to securing her to address an El Paso meeting held under the auspices of the El Paso Equal Franchise League. Mrs. Critchett was charmed with Dr. Russell and writes that she is very busy going from point to point in New Mexico, making campaign addresses.

PSYCHOLOGY IN THE HOME

The Mothers club of the Acacia street school now numbers nearly fifty members. The monthly meeting last Friday was a very successful affair. It was addressed by Professor Moyse, Principal of the Union High who tried to impress upon the mothers the effect of their influence upon the plastic minds of their children. He told of the children with whom teachers have to struggle who calmly announced that their parents never did well in this subject of that and therefore they cannot be expected to excel. In other words they shirk and make the excuse of supposed hereditary deficiencies. Professor Moyse would have parents refrain from anouncing their own limitations in the presence of their offspring. Light refreshments were served before the program instead of after, and the innovation worked out well. Miss Melicent Virden contributed some piano numbers which were much enjoyed.

The club has decided to hold its bazaar at the Acacia school house instead of seeking other quarters.

VOTERS OF THE FIFTH DISTRICT

The opponent of Stephen C. Packer, candidate for Supervisor from the Fifth District of Los Angeles county, on his card states that he is a college graduate, which, while an advantage in the professions, is not requisite of a capable business man. He further prints that he is president of two banks, president of the Cawston Ostrich farm, mayor of a sixth-class city, real estate man and lawyer. The question arises hasn't the candidate enough irons in the fire to keep even a college graduate busy? It is thought this is worth consideration. On the other hand Stephen C. Packer while not a college graduate, is a practical business man of proven ability and honesty and knowing that Mr. Packer possessed these qualifications his neighbors urged him to make the contest for Supervisor from the Fifth district of Los Angeles county. If elected, which it is confidently believed he will be, he will devote his entire time to the discharge of the duties of the office and will not make them subservient to his own private interests.

He believes in a strict enforcement of all laws, not alone the liquor laws, and will lend every effort toword lessening the tax burden in Los Angeles county.

STANDS WITH THE DRYS

William Thomas Helms, candidate for district attorney of Los Angeles county has stated his platform. He is firmly on the side of the Dry question and has pledged himself to close the blind pigs and the booze joints which are operating without license if he is elected November 7.

This is the first time that an old-party man, who is a candidate for a high office has come out on the side of temperance. With Helms firmly entrenched with the force fighting against the liquor evil his vote is certain to be large. When the final count is made many predict that "Capt." Helms will be elected by an overwhelming majority.

THURSDAY CLUB CONSIDERS JUVENILE PROTECTION

Again was the Council Chamber made beautiful for the gathering of the members of the Thursday Afternoon club, last week.

Mrs. E. K. Foster was the speaker of the day and after the business preliminaries of reading of the minutes and of communications and of announcements had been made, she was simply but effectively introduced by Mrs. Kimberly. "Problems of Juvenile Protection" was her theme and it so completely absorbs her that she has no time to give to the little affectations of the typical club speaker. With her earnestness is blended pearsonal charm, which completely won her audience.

She spoke of the change from 25 years ago when work for juveniles consisted of giving toys and Christmas banquets. "Now," said she, "we have learned that real philanthropy doesn't consist of just puting your hand in your pocket or giving an order on the grocer. We have grown so tired of the word 'philanthropy' and the misure of 'welfare work' that we have come to feel that our work is best expressed by 'Juvenile Protection,' and it has attained some very definite classifications. The work that reaches the hearts of people we call special case work, that is, direct personal work with individual children or separate families needing some kind of help. Special case work is rehabilitating homes, taking care of abused children, looking after young children in a bad environment.

Mrs. Foster gave details of several interesting cases of this kind and mentioned the fact that complaints relative to neglected children are made more freely when the case can be handled by an organization and a neighborhood row avoided. In all cases the effort is to find the cause of the trouble and if possible remedy it without breaking up a home.

"We used to find a great deal of difficulty," said Mrs. Foster "in getting the right kind of women interested in these things. We now say to such women: 'Some day your child is going to pay you because you are not looking out for other peoples' children.' It takes an epidemic of diptheria to teach a woman that her own children should not be her sole concern. She also comes to realize that her child cannot be good unless her neighbors' children are good. This forces the mother into the whole life of the community. What the clubs do is to get women to thinking and realizing these things. This growing sense of social solidarity has come home to all the younger women. But the majority of women in our clubs are gray. My chief complaint is that the women who have time and means refuse to interest themselves in child welfare work. They say: 'Well, I have done my duty. Look to my lovely family. It is my time now to sit back and rest and enjoy my grandchildren.' The selfish grandmother is a most deplorable spectacle."

Looking after institutions is another phase of juvenile protection work of which Mrs. Foster spoke. Boarding children to make money out of them she characterized as an abominable business. Said she: "The fee paid by the state or the county is so small that it is impossible to do it in a way to nourish their bodies and keep the children growing properly. There is no way the county can prevent the neglect of little children. In the larger institutions children are massed together in large numbers without any attempt to segregate the innocent from the vicious." She then told of the terrific difficulties overcome in getting a law requiring segregation in institutions passed at the last legislature, which law is absolutely in-operative because it is nowhere enforced.

The problem of community recreation was the last division of her subject. "It is most important," she said, "because the harm done and the good done is so tremendous. You should know something of the conditions under which moving pictures are produced and shown. Parents who permit children to go to moving pictures alone are running a great risk. Then there are the skating rinks, the dance halls and the auto trips. We won't get good theatres by staying at home. This is a democratic age and your child and mine are going to insist upon doing the things that their companions are doing whether we are ready to sanction them or not."

She also urged women to inform themselves regarding theis own communities. "I presume," said she, "there are things going on in Tropico about which I am better informed than you are.' In this connection she said: "The day of purely cultural clubs has bone by. Our clubs must do more than make nice ladies of us."

* * *

At the business session before Mrs. Foster was introduced, Mrs. Virden explained the purpose of the series of reciprocity days inaugurated by the clubs of the San Fernando Valley to promote better acquaintance and closer relationship.

On motion of the Chairman of the Membership Committee the club voted to be represented in the Dry Parade of November 4th, naming Miss Myers and Mesdames Finley and Bullis as a special delegation to be accompanied by all other members who cared to participate.

The proposed constitutional amendment to raise the club dues from $2 to $3 was brought up and adopted on motion of Mrs. Richardson.

Tea was served at the conclusion of the address by Mrs. Leigh Bancroft assisted by Mesdames A. L. Bancroft, T. E. Brown, Wesley Bullis and A. J. Baker.

QUIET WEDDING

The Methodist parsonage was the scene of a quiet wedding last week when Rev. Don Ford united Hearn W. Robinson and Eleanor Marshall of Ramona Park. Attesting witnesses were: Miss Flora Salisbury of Los Angeles and C. B. Robinson, brother of the groom and associated with him in the business of the Robinson Transfer Company of Glendale. Other friends and relatives were present.

The young people have enjoyed a brief honeymoon trip and will make their home in Tropico at 122 West Acacia.

The U anl I club have a novelty this month in a meeting to be held at Exposition Park where members will picnic and then visit the museum and inspect the interesting and instructive exhibits. The trip will be made by trolley.

Every dog has his day and every pumpkin its Hallowe'en.

Unless all-sign fail Tropico will go "Dry" whether the states does or not.

PROCEEDINGS OF BOARD OF TRUSTEES

At the meeting of October 24th all members were present save Trustee Boyce.

Complaint of Weeds

A communication read by the clerk from residents of Boynton avenue, petitioned that Lot 13, Block B, of the Heide-Boynton Tract be cleared of unsightly sunflower stalks. It was signed by W. E. McCulloch, H. F. Lane and Mesdames A. Crist, C. W. Smith, M. Cleeves and H. Heide. Moved by Henry that the City Clerk be instructed to write a letter to the owner of the lot requesting him to clear it of weeds. Carried.

Rectification of Channel

A letter was read addressed by J. Reagan, Engineer of Flood Control to Engineer Wattles asking for approval or suggestions relative to proposed rectification of the channel of the Sycamore Canyon Wash. Mr. Wattles advised the Board to grant the Flood Control Commission the right to clear the channel. Referred by the Board to City Engineer for reply.

Taxicab Licenses

Applications for taxicab licenses were granted to H. L. Howard, Chas. H. Lewis and F. E. Boynton, all of Glendale.

Ordinance Amendment

Under the call for official report Attorney Shaw stated he had prepared the ordinance amendments necessary to enable the city to issue permits instead of licenses for the digging of cesspools. The clerk then read the proposed ordinance which repeals section 29 of Ordinance 44 and amends Section 26-A of Ordinance 112. On motion of Trustee Alspach the ordinance was declared read for the first time.

Columbus Avenue

Relative to the opening of Columbus avenue, Attorney Shaw reported his discovery that the city holds a street assessment bond against the property taken up at a cost of about $50.00 at the request of Mr. Young and with the understanding that he would open the street; that this bond against the property could be foreclosed. The suggestion was the subject of a debate which ended in a motion by Henry that the City Attorney be instructed to take the necessary steps for the condemnation of a strip of land owned by Mr. Young on Columbus avenue between Paloma and Park avenue. Carried.

Larsen Appeal

Concerning the Larsen matter, Mr. Shaw stated he had received from the attorney for the bank and Mrs. Larsen a proposition for the city to pay her $550.00 in cash and reduce the assessment on the 22 feet on the east side of Adams street to $200. As the assessment against Mrs. Larsen's properyt is about $360, the amount to be assumed by the city under the proposition would be in the neighborhood of $700. No action was taken and the hearing on the appeal was continued to October 31 at 7:30 p. m.

Street Repair

In regard to the renovation of San Fernando Boulevard at the junction of Central avenue, President Peters reported that arrangements for the repairs had been made with P. L. Ferry, who estimated it would take three days' work with road machinery at a cost of $15 per day, also a couple of loads of rock and one tank of oil.

Big Bills

An $8.00 bill for replacing cup in a drinking fountain repaired by Street Superintendent was protested by Alspach on the ground that the estimated cost was 75c and he wished a voucher from the firm which furnished the cup.

Another bill for inspection and testing of cement in connection with street work was satisfactorily explained by Engineer Wattles and referred to him for O. K.

The Absentee

The continued absence of Trustee Boyce was referred to and the City Attorney was asked how long an absence was permissible under the law. He replied: "Ninety days."

No further business being presented, the Board adjourned.

CIVIC ACTIVITIES

City Manager Watson addressed last Tuesday the Civic Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club of Glendale, of which Mrs. Richardson is Curator.

He touched on various phases of municipal housekeeping and improvement. In the matter of lot cleaning he stated that since the passage of the law declaring weeds a nuisance and providing for assessing the cost of their removal against the property the city had been able to handle that problem satisfactorily in nearly all all cases. He also referred to the law permitting the planting of street trees and assessing of the property for the costs. He stated, however, that Glendale had found a better plan, viz., growing the trees at small expense in municipal nurseries and setting them in the parkways without special assessment. The quick growing acacia has been selected for a temporary tree and about 1000 are now available and will soon be set, one tree to a lot. Later more permanent trees will be set in the spaces between the first plantings with a veiw to the ultimate removal of the acacias. In justification of the tree planting he stated the parkways contain fifty acres of the most prominent ground in the city.

Bakers may demand an embargo on wheat exportation.

5000 students will compete in Home Products essay competition.

WATER PROBLEMS ELSEWHERE

Tropico is not the only city with a water problem. A special election was held in Hollywood last week to decide the question of issuing $1,200,000 water bonds to complete purchase of the local water system. It carried by a substantial majority.

* * *

At Redondo last week the State Railway Commissioners held a hearing on a petition by consumers for a reduction in water rates. The evidence introduced by the water company included an estimate of the value of the corporation's holdings placed at $200,000 on which they claim annual earnings of $32,986 would be required to pay interest on this value and provide a sinking fund for depreciation. The gross income under the present rate was estimated to be $22,000 to $24,000. Not all the evidence was introduced and the hearing will be concluded this week.

A REPUBLICAN FOR REPUBLICANS

In a ringing endorsement of the candidacy for Congress of Hon. Charles W. Bell, Independent (Republican) candidate, United States Senator John D. Works declares that Mr. Randall, the Democratic candidate, who is running under four conflicting party denominations, is attempting to maintain an impossible position. In this connection Senator Works says:

"I am utterly opposed to the nomination of any candidate by any other than his own party. A candidate nominated by different parties, opposed to each other on matters of such vital interest, stands in such an equivocal position that he can have no force or standing in Congress. If he supports the principles of one of the parties that nominated him he betrays the other. No man having right ideas of government and the duties of a Member of Congress would allow himself to be placed in any such position, and if he does, every right thinking voter should feel it his duty to vote against him."

VOYAGE TO STRANGE LANDS

The first meeting of the Art and Travel section of the Tuesday Afternoon club of Glendale was held Monday afternoon at the home of the curator, Mrs. C. M. Turck, 521 North Glendale avenue, Tropico. The enrollment was 27 and members were full of enthusiasm, particularly after Mrs. Turck had initiated them in the preliminaries of a European tour and conducted them across the ocean to Genoa after stops at Gibraltar and the Azores. It was a surprise to many of the section to discover that Gibraltar, that wonderful fortification which has been in the possession of the British since 1704, is only three miles long and 1400 feet high, and to also learn that there is a strip of land between the rock and Spain which is neutral territory. Mrs. Turck also gave some interesting facts about the nine inhabited islands of the Azores which have a population of 300,000 engaged in raising oranges, vegetables, beef and pork. They have a very healthful climate while Gibraltar is dangerously malarial. Mrs. Turck feels a special interest in France and Italy as she is descended from Huguenot stock and also has an ancestor who was born in Genoa. At the next meeting, Mrs. Jones will tell the section something about the Genoese, their manners and customs, characteristics, art, etc. The list of members from Tropico includes Mesdames Johnson, Clotworthy, Pierce and Percy de Gaston.

RECIPROCITY MEETING

At the reciprocity meeting of the Thursday Afternoon club which will be held November 12th, attendance will be limited to members and the invited guests from abroad. Special guests will be Mrs. E. D. Knight, president of the State Federation, Mrs. Loyde Harmon, persident of the District Federation, and there is a possibility that Mrs. Josiah Cowles, president of the National Federation will also look in on the meeting long enough to give a word of greeting. It will be quite a feather in the cap of the club to entertain so many celebrities.

The musical program will be furnished by Miss Bess Chapin of Los Angeles, a violinist well known in musical circles who studied abroad and is a favorite in the colony of musicians. Miss Lulu Lanterman, equally known, will contribute vocal numbers, and Miss Harriett Lanterman will be accompanist.

Mrs. Harry Bowman, chairman of hostesses, will be assisted by Mesdames E. H. Barnes, C. E. Clemens, Allen E. Boyce and Clyde Carmack.

KNIGHTS ON GLENDALE NIGHT

It was Glendale night last Friday at Glendale Commandery No. 52, Knights Templar, which gave the first of a series of banquets which are to honor the towns of the San Fernando Valley. It is said that the next banquet will be Tropico Night.

Charles Peckham, manager, marshalled sixty Knight and lady guests to their seats at 6:30 where they enjoyed a repast that was a credit to Mr. Peckham's stewardship.

Thomas Ogg was responsible for the musical program which followed the opening speech by Eminent Commander Mattison B. Jones. The musical numbers were:

Violin and cornet duet, "Rose of My Heart," William Bade and J. T. Beach, accompanied by Alice Beach.

Vocal solo, "Armarella," (Winne.) Miss Mattie Belle Provolt, accompanied by Miss Beach.

Reading, "Music Hath Power," (Written by Margaret Cameron.) Miss Abbey C. Terry.

Piano, "Caprice," and "Burlesque," (Gabrilowith.) "Leibesstraum." (Liszt.) Miss Melicent Virden.

Vocal solos, "Picanniny Mine" and "Silver Threads Among the Gold," Francis Booth.

Vocal solos, "My Laddie." (Thayer.) "Happy Song," (Del Riego.) Mrs. J. R. Moyse.

The guest list from Tropico included: Mr. W. G. Black, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Virden, Mesdames Harry Bowman and Charles Barker, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Provolt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Booth, Mr. J. P. Priaulx and C. C. Ritenhouse.

San Rafael—Elks will bulid $15,000 lodge building.

Callac—Contract awarded for building new breakwater preparatory to beginning construction of $1,000,000 hotel to replace the one destroyed by fire.

TROPICO INTER-URBAN SENTINEL

(Established 1910)

Published every Thursday at Tropico, California, and devoted to the best interests and future welfare of the most healthful city in the San Fernando Valley. Come and see for yourself.

Gertrude Gibbs .. Editor and Owner
Edith A. Cross .... Associate Editor
Telephone: Glendale 1500.

"Entered as second-class matter May 23, 1916, at the postoffice at Los Angeles, Cal., under the Act of March 3, 1879."

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

Subscription, $1.00 per year.

Advertising rates furnished on application. The Value of the Tropico Interurban Sentinel as an advertising medium is obvious when its field at the head of the San Fernando Valley is considered. The nature of the paper, the character of its subscribers and the class of advertising it carries tell the whole story.

A CONFESSION OF FAITH

The editor has been asked where the Sentinel stands on the prohibition question and why it does not register its opinion on the issue.

The Sentinel has always been advertised as an independent vehicle of news to a constituency representing all shades of opinion and it has seemed to the editor that it would be improper and offensive to undertake to convert its readers to Republicanism, Democracy or Prohibition. Its columns are open to a reasonable amount of political news and propaganda, but its readers are presumably intelligent enough to weigh the facts and arguments and vote without instructions from the town paper.

However, if public opinion demands that the Sentinel hoist a banner announcing the personal preferences of the editor, the banner should cover the whole political ticket, so the announcement is here made that the editor intends to vote for Charles E. Hughes for president, for Charles W. Bell for Congressional representative, for Hiram Johnson for United States Senator, and to vote "yes" on the prohibition amendment. While it seems a pity to destroy an industry and to legislate out of existence the delicious wines that have made California famous, it has been found impossible to regulate the sale and consumption of liquor for the well being of society; the liquor manufacturers and dealers have steadfastly refused to co-operate with the authorities in the effort to control the traffic and have so persistently alligned themselves with the panderers to vice that their business is in very ill repute. The good that is represented by the wine industry appears therefore to be so far over balanced by evils of the liquor traffic in general, with which it is inseparably connected, that it can no longer, in the opinion of the editor, claim protection or support at the expense of the greater interests of society at large.

MISSION OF THE SAXON

A large audience and a most appreciative one, gathered to hear the eloquent lecture of Rev. Daniel Fox of Pasadena before the Tuesday Afternoon club this week in Masonic Temple.

Sir Walter Raleigh was his text and his theme was the Saxon. The century in which Raleigh lived from 1450 to 1550 he characterized as splendid with important events. Reciting the names famed in art and science, and the literature which made glorious the reign of Elizabeth, he prounounced Raleigh the peer of them all, saying, "He could do more things and do them better than any man of his time. He was the universal genius, the star of first magnitude of that era."

Starting with Raleigh as the typical Saxon, he traced the achievements of the Saxon down the ages and showed his constant leadership. "The world," he declared, "is astonished at the Saxon, who has annihilated space and made the world a neighborhood.. The problem of the Saxon today is to make of the neighborhood a brotherhood."

Sierra Madre had a chrysanthemum fete this week.

California mineral output for 1915 shows total value of $96,663,369. Crude oil shows decrease of 12,000,000 barrels below 1914 while copper shows increase of $3,000,000.

JONATHAN S. DODGE ENDORSED FOR SUPERVISOR IN THE FIFTH DISTRICT

The Highland Park and Garvanza Business Men's Club held a meeting at the Highland Park bank to discuss the amendments to be voted on at the special election, recommendations were made, after which the important office of supervisor was taken up and the qualifications of the candidates were gone over. The club by unanimous vote decided to support Jonathan S. Dodge. Many words in praise of Mr. Dodge were uttered by different ones and he was highly recommended to all voters in the Fifth District. Mr. C. M. Church, Vice-President of the Highland Park Bank was elected Chairman; Mr. W. F. Poor, Secretary. Resolutions were signed by the following:

Dr. S. Y. Van Meter, D. B. Herriott, E. H. Stag, W. T. Foster, F. R. Scouten, H. H. Grotthouse, Dr. J. G. Baerd, B. McKelvey, Paul Yessir, W. W. Fiske, R. A. Baker, A. A. Phillips, Dr. Chamberlin, C. O. Elder, W. F. Poor, C. M. Church, D. C. Welty, G. W. E. Griffith, A. Ecklof, Mr. Penebaker.

FRIEND OF CITRUS GROWERS

Declaring that the issue of tariff protection is made to order for Hon. Charles W. Bell, Independent (Republican) candidate for Congress in the Ninth District, the Los Angeles Graphic of October 21st says:

"Mr. Bell is absolutely sound as to tariff policy, and being a Republican, can and will be able to do much for the restoration of adequate protection for citrus men. He is experienced and understands how to accomplish results. His personal standing in Congress is high. He knows how to meet and convince his collegues.

"Mr. Randall, on the other hand, as a Democrat, is bound to the Democratic free-trade caucus. He is attempting to convince his constituents that, if returned to Washington, he will be permitted to sit in the Republican as well as the Democratic caucus. To those possessing even the slightest acquaintance with the party rule in the House, such claims as he puts forth in this respect cannot but appear insincere."

Van Nuys Home Industry Day was pronounced a great success.

Officials declare the passage of the single tax amendment will bring chaos to business and industries.

California may be a pivotal state in the election.

AUTO VS. OSTRICH

Jonathan S. Dodge, popular candidate for supervisor in the Fifth District and President of the Cawston Ostrich Farm, says that in the future he will tow one of the big birds along so that he will not disappoint another crowd. After putting in a strenuous day in the La Canada District Saturday, he left for Little Landers to address a meeting of the Tahunga Boosters, when his car went out of commission with the nearest garage miles away. While walking to the nearest phone he unanimously adopted the above resolution.

DEATH OF FAMOUS VETERAN

Ben F. Hilliker, famed as the "drummer boy of Shiloh" and for many years a conspicuous figure in G. A. R. reunions, died October 18th at the old Fort Moore place, corner of Broadway and Los Angeles streets. He was buried with military honors on the 20th, the services being conducted by the G. A. R. Hilliker was awarded a medal for personal bravery in rescuing his colonel from the battlefield of Shiloh. He was seventy-one years of age when death claimed him and was distantly related to Mrs. Eustace B. Moore of this city. He was quite well known in Tropico and drummed at a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Associations held here last spring.
